EquestrianSport.tv will be providing technical assistance to the live Web cast of the Budweiser American Invitational, Saturday, April 4 at Raymond James Stadium in Tampa Florida. The Webcast will be produced in partnership with Stadium Jumping and Productions East Video. While this event will not be a free one like most of our events - you can be assured of the same quality and reliability you've come to expect from an EquestrianSport.tv event. And it's the only way to watch live without being there!
